THE Millersburg correspondent of the Bourbon News says: "Two fraudulent insurance agents-sharpers who but recently worked the mountains successfully -put in the week here last week and soaked a few of our citizens. Their game was to collect cash in advance and issue bogus policies. One party stopped payment of a check in the nick of time. They offered to discount notes at the most unreasonable rates."

MR. JOHN W. TUNE and Miss Barbara E. Chadwick, an eloping couple from Fleming County, arrived on the train between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday on their way to Aberdeen. They found the river full of ice, and concluded, as they were B. McKrell were at Cincinnati yesterday. both of age, to be married in this city. Procuring a license they called in the services of Justice M. F. Marsh, and the words were soon spoken that " made the twain one." The newly-wedded and their friends left shortly afterwards for their home.

THE concert at the Baptist Church to be given on Tuesday night, February 9th promises to be a very brilliant affair. Madam Flora MacIntosh, lately of New York, who will sing on this occasion, has won laurels in Steinwry Hall, New York as a brilliant and effective solo singer. It is seldom such artists chance to visit Maysville and music lovers should not miss this opportunity. Besides many of the best singers of this city will take part in the entertainment. Professer A. Frost will act as soloist and accompanist on the occasion.

Among the passengers on the train that arrived here about 4 o'clock yesterday was a runaway couple from near Cynthiana. They had eluded the vigilance of the would-be bride's parents the night before, and had made their way large circle of friends here who wish him it a buggy, through the snow storm that success in his new home. prevailed, to Millersburg. The train was four or five hours late, and fearing that their parents would overtake them if they remained there, they proceeded up the road to a flag station between that place and Pavis, where they waited with anxious hearts for the train. They were expecting the officers to be ready to nab them on their arrival here, and remained hidden in the coach until a young man who accompanied them reconnoitered and found that the coast was clear. They lost no time in hurrying to the river, and, not at all deterred by the heavy, floating ice, were soon transported to Aberdeen, that haven of happiness for all runaway couples.

He Was Looking for the Doctors' Office.

He was looking for the Pension Examiners' office, but mistook the room and struck a printing office on the other side four efforts before he got the door open. He then moved across the threshold slowly, very slowly-taking about three inches at a step-and, judging from his countenance, every move he made was causing excruciating pain and suffering. After making three or four more feeble efforts, he seemed about on the point of giving up in despair of ever succeeding in closing the door, but at last he managed to accomplish the seemingly difficult ble submission to the will of Almighty God.

A dark coud of sorrow hung over this church and the community on the moraling that ushered in the New Year 18-6, when it was a secritable that our beloves brother Andrew T. Cox had departed this life. We, now as a Session desire to give expression in the loss of a so valued memoer and Eder of this church. Therefore, Bei R solved Phat while we bow in humble submission to the will of Almighty God. tenance, every move he made was causaware of his presence, and with the usual salutation and a wave of the hand, invited the pension-seeker to a chair, and then resumed writing. The strong, robustlooking fellow, who was probably seeking to make "Uncle Sam" pay him $8 or $10 a month for a disability he never was troubled with, or one which was never contracted while fighting the enemies of his country; dragged himself slowly across the room to the chair and painfully took his seat. A silence of several minutes ensued. The editor was still busily writ-Presently, pension-seeker (in very weak voice): "Will the doctors be in soon?"

Editor-(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have mistaken the place."

Pension seeker-(with surprise and a much stronger tone): "I have? Then where is it?'

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with pounds to the acre, and was sold at $9.15 no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the "big arm chair by the stove" and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.
